Paige Seles is a vice president at Hughes Marino, a global corporate real estate advisory firm that specializes in representing tenants and buyers. Based in Hughes Marino's Los Angeles office, Paige represents and advises companies in their corporate real estate strategies, and ensures her clients receive best-in class service to help their businesses thrive.

Originally from Pittsburgh, PA, Paige moved across country to attend Loyola Marymount University, where she gained a tremendous amount of experience in business, community involvement and leadership. During her junior and senior year of college, she served as the President of the Alpha Phi Sorority, and acted as a liaison between a chapter of 130+ members and the Panhellenic Executive Board. She also helped to construct and implement transformative strategies to strengthen potential member interests and preserve brand integrity, and oversaw the allocation of funds to chapter philanthropy programs and events. An integral part of her Presidency that was near and dear to her heart was upholding the value of their two main philanthropies: Women's Heart Health and The Children's Hospital of Los Angeles.

In her free time, Paige enjoys hiking, golfing, spending quality time at the beach and searching for new restaurants to try out in the Los Angeles area. She values the time she can spend with her wonderful family and friends as they create memories that last a lifetime.
