PROJECT DESCRIPTION

Hughes Marino helped commercial furniture company Parron Hall realize its vision for a stunning, new combined office space and showroom. Parron Hall represents DIRT, a furniture and modular office manufacturer whose product was featured in the construction. All of the offices and conference rooms were constructed using DIRT products, including FilzFelt sliding partitions that were used to create a boardroom and retract to allow for an open reception lobby area suitable for all hands meetings and entertaining clients. Extensive audiovisual systems were built in throughout.

ADDED VALUE

Hughes Marino assisted Parron Hall with the coordination of installation details between the multiple furniture suppliers, DIRT walls and AV systems. With virtually no hardwall construction, all of the connection points had to be exact. The budget was tight, but the Hughes Marino CM team used its knowledge of price points to guide the client to finish and lighting solutions that were on the mark.

SERVICES PROVIDED

Hughes Marino provided full project management services from design through permitting, construction and occupancy.
