Kevin Mein is a vice president at the Bay Area offices of Hughes Marino, an industry-leading commercial real estate company that exclusively represents corporate tenants and owner/users (never landlords) in all real estate transactions.

As a former real estate attorney and real estate developer, Kevin is a dynamic, hands-on and versatile real estate professional with 20+ years of experience in leasing, subleasing, acquisition & development, entitlements, construction management, built-to-suit transactions, lending and finance, and operations/property management in various asset classes.

In his free time, Kevin loves to spend time with his kids, powder skiing, mountain biking, or any other outdoors activity.
